THE NEW YORK WORLD TO REVIVE THE DEMOCRACY.

THE PRESIDENT TO MR. CAMERON.

New York, Nov. 16.—The Tribune's special says the president made the following speech to Cameron and his associates of the Philadelphia delegation, who desire the appointment of a postmaster for Philadelphia of their own selection:

GENTLEMEN: I do not well see how it would be proper for me to set aside the rules and regulations of the civil-service commission. I sometimes get determined to enforce those regulations on every proper occasion. What have we here? There are two candidates presented, both Republicans. One of them, Mr. Fairman, has been an employee of the Philadelphia post-office for some time, and I am satisfied he is fully competent to take the charge of postmaster. If I was disposed to set aside the civil-service rules, and go outside, I might appoint Mr. Truman, but I cannot conscientiously do this.

DEMOCRACY TO BE REVIVED.

The World advocates the revival of the old Democratic party. It says the chances for its victorious re-establishment are more promising than at any time during the last fifteen years. It expects this organization to be effected on fiscal and commercial questions, which were constantly agitated, but never decided between the old Democratic and Whig parties. It concludes by saying it must be our purpose in the new era, to bring those who think alike to act together. We must rebuild the Democratic edifice by bearing back the stones carried transiently into other structures, or, in plain language, we must invite all who held Democratic doctrines before the Republican party was formed, and reinforce them by numerous recent converts to the same order of economical and political ideas. To accomplish this we must drop mere partisanship and discuss principles.

COMMENTS UPON THE COURSE OF THE PRESIDENT.

New York, Nov. 16.—A Washington special says the city is filling up with politicians, who comment severely upon the course of the president in relation to civil-service rules, as manifested in his remarks to the Pennsylvania delegation about the appointment of a postmaster for Philadelphia. They allege that the strict enforcement of the rules will exclude many men from holding office who have just claims upon Republicans, and who can creditably fill offices for which they apply, but nevertheless cannot pass the civil-service examination.

THE MANAGEMENT OF THE TRIBUNE.

New York, Nov. 16.—The statement that a change is impending in the management of the New York Tribune is not correct. The stockholders are harmonious, and no editorial reorganizing has ever been discussed. Whitelaw Reid is not going to Europe, but will continue as managing editor. Mr. Greeley will occupy the same editorial leadership as heretofore.

THE LIBERAL PARTY.

The Liberals of Brooklyn are the first in this region to determine to preserve their organization. They have held a meeting and formally resolved to call themselves simply Liberals in the future, and not Liberal Republicans. Resolutions inviting all who wished for the success of the Cincinnati platform to unite with them, and ordering a committee of thirteen to mark out a future course, were adopted.

THE PRESIDENT'S SUITS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Senator Cameron, Osburn, and ex-Senator Wade were callers on the president today. Many others called to pay their respects. The chamber of the executive office presented this afternoon, a scene of animation that has not characterized it for many months. Gov. Hartranft of Pennsylvania, is still in Washington.

THE PRESIDENT CONGRATULATED.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The young men's Republican club of Washington called on the president today and congratulated him on his re-election. The president in reply to an informal address said the vote he had received was more gratifying than the possession of the office itself, as it served to show the people did not believe the campaign slanders on his character.

DR. HOWARD.

Dr. Howard, an American recently imprisoned in Cuba, has addressed a letter to President Grant thanking him for interfering in his behalf and securing his freedom.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Nov. 16.—The celebrated Barnes case was concluded at Mt. Vernon today, by a verdict against admitting the alleged will to probate. The amount of property involved is $400,000. The Indiana State Spiritualist association were the plaintiffs and Barnes' heirs-at-law the defendants. It will go to the supreme court.

CABINET CHANGES.

St. Louis, Nov. 16.—The Democrat of this city, says editorially and advisedly, that there will be but two changes in Grant's cabinet after the 4th of March. Boutwell will retire to take a seat in the senate, and Fish will withdraw to private life, or what is more probable, to accept the mission to England.

ALABAMA ELECTION.

Nashville, Nov. 16.—Mr. Tyler chairman of the Democratic executive committee of Alabama, telegraphs to ESTIMATE OF INSURANCE LOSSES.

New York, Nov. 16.—The latest and lowest estimate of insurance losses of the Boston fire gives the total amount at $48,572,300, distributed as follows: Massachusetts companies, $207,100; Connecticut, $2,932,800; New York, $6,850,000; Maine, $400,000; Rhode Island, $920,000; California, $75,000; Minnesota, $50,000; Illinois, $30,000; Missouri, $25,000; New Jersey, $175,000; Ohio, $205,000; Pennsylvania, $227,650; Wisconsin, $50,000; foreign, $4,510,000. The wool dealers, it is said, are fairly covered with insurance. Large numbers of bales of wool are being recovered from the ruins, the outside of which are burned black but the insides are good. It is believed direct and indirect losses will not exceed forty millions after the insurance is liquidated.

The Chamber of Commerce Relief committee will issue an address to the citizens of New York on Monday asking for contributions.

VESSELS WRECKED.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—A London dispatch from Steadford today, reports eight vessels totally wrecked in the late gale, and the town considerably damaged by inundations. Fishermen on the islands of Joland, Darst and Hiddensee lost all their fishing smacks and apparatus, and houses and contents were greatly damaged by the high water, and nearly all the cattle on the islands were drowned. The inhabitants are suffering from the want of fresh water and shelter. The government dispatched steamers loaded with supplies for their relief. Rugan island also felt the disaster heavily, many of its fishing boats were destroyed, coast line flooded, and the loss of life both on the island and mainland was very great.

THE LOSS TO HARVARD.

Boston, Nov. 16.—The Harvard college suffered by the fire to the extent of $562,000. Including the value of the land it will cost $660,000 to rebuild the college. It has toward this amount $109,000 of good insurance out of the $216,000 for which it was insured, the loss is thus reduced to $200,000. This, says President Elliott, we must raise. The fire was severe on publishers, but the Transcript, American Home Magazine, Waverly and all the monthlies secured new quarters at once, and though temporarily inconvenienced, new type, new presses and hard work will enable them to soon run smoothly. Considerable salvage on wool and leather are being discovered among the ruins, the value amounting to several thousand dollars.

HORSE PLAGUE.

BUSINESS ALMOST SUSPENDED IN LOUISVILLE.

THE MALADY CONTINUES IN NEW YORK.

NO ABATEMENT IN THE EPIDEMIC OTIC IN MILWAUKEE.

[Reported Especially for the Bulletin.]

New York, Nov. 16.—The drapery malady among horses continues and is of a very fatal type, stablemen, however, think the worst has passed in this city and neighborhood. Commodore Vanderbilt's Mountain Boy died yesterday.

Milwaukee, Nov. 16.—The epizootic still rages in this city with little or no signs of abating, and reports from the interior show it to be spreading through the state. It is almost impossible to find teams to transfer baggage from hotels to the depot. A funeral procession passed through the streets yesterday the horses being drawn by oxen.

Louisville, Nov. 16.—The horse disease has stopped nearly all business. A few horses and mules are unaffected. Oxen are being used for freight transport throughout the city. Volunteer companies of citizens have been organized in all wards of the city to draw engines to the disappearance of the epidemic. It is believed to be passing away now, and the disease is assuming a milder type, and there are now but a few fatal cases.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 16.—The epizootic still prevalent. Ox and donkey teams substituted; light wagons are hauled by men. Coal has advanced to $7 per ton, $2 being charged for delivery. Railroads are refusing to receive freight for delivery here, great inconvenience resulting from the disease. Citizens pulled the engines to a fire today and last night. The plan worked well, extinguishers being used freely.
